

May 11, 2019

To
The Editors
Indian Journal of Medical Ethics
Mumbai
India

Subject: Report of the consultation on the feasibility and ethical issues in specific, probable controlled human infection model (CHIM) study scenarios in India

Dear Editors,

This manuscript submitted to the Indian Journal of Medical Ethics is the original work of Manjulika Vaz, Olinda Timms, Anuradha Rose, Abi Manesh and Anant Bhan. All authors have participated sufficiently in the work to meet the guidelines for authorship. All persons who meet the guidelines for authorship for this paper have been listed as authors.

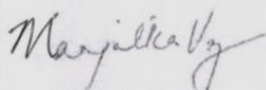

Manjulika Vaz will correspond with the editors on behalf of all authors and respond to any requests for clarifications, changes or corrections. She will go as the Corresponding Author.

Neither this manuscript nor substantially similar material authored by us has been published or is under consideration for publication in any other journal.

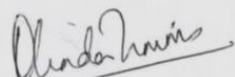

The authors have no conflicts of interest.

We have read the terms of publication of articles in IJME given on the website and accept them.

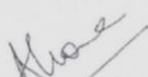

Sincerely,

Manjulika Vaz
nanjulikavaz@sjri.res.in

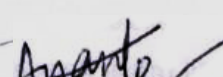

Olinda Timms
olindatimms@gmail.com

Anuradha Rose
anurose@cmcvellore.ac.in

Abi Manesh
abimanes@gmail.com

Anant Bhan
antbhan@gmail.com

Health and Humanities
St John's Research Institute,
Koramangala
Bangalore 560034

Health and Humanities
St John's Research Institute,
Koramangala
Bangalore 560034

Christian Medical College,
Vellore, 632 002
Tamil Nadu
INDIA

Christian Medical College,
Vellore, 632 002
Tamil Nadu
INDIA

5009, Type V,
AIMS Campus,
Saket Nagar
Bhopal 462020