

Dear Editor,

This is to confirm that the article entitled “Dirge of Dignity” submitted to the Indian Journal of Medical Ethics is original and has been authored by the undersigned.

The submission is not under consideration for publication in any other journal.

Details of sponsorship or relevant competing interests, financial or otherwise: NIL

I have read the terms and conditions of authorship of IJME and accept them.

I think my paper is suitable for publication in an ethics journal because:----- (in not more than 100 words)

I think my poem is suitable for publication in your ethics journal because the poem deals with the main theme of dignity, of human dignity, which is a central tenet and pillar of ethics. This poem was inspired by my studies in Bioethics at the Yenapoya university where the leitmotif of all ethical matters and issues boiled down to human dignity. I have titled it as a dirge or lament of dignity, since it is very evident in the present scenario as we daily witness the rape and murder of this precious human quality. Human dignity is overridden and throttled universally, whether it is in Trumps America, among the Uyghurs of China, or the humiliation and vulgar affront shown to the Indian health worker during the present covid pandemic.

Contact details (mailing address, institutional and personal email id) and current affiliation:

Dr .Blany Lobo
BHMS MD (Hom) Professor; Department of Pharmacy
Father Muller Homoeopathic Medical College And Hospital.
University road, Derlakatte Post Mangalore – 574160 India

Mailing Address: blanyjohnlobo@gmail.com

Institutional Email: mullerhmc@yahoo.com

Website: www.fathermuller.com

Signature of author:

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Blany Lobo', is written over a horizontal line. The signature is fluid and cursive.

