

20th October 2020

Dear Editor,

This is to confirm that the article entitled “Rooting for Roona : Predicaments of Addressing Birth Defects And Childhood Disabilities in India” submitted to the Indian Journal of Medical Ethics is original and is a single author manuscript.

The submission is not under consideration for publication in any other journal. Dr Anita Kar is the corresponding author.

Details of competing interest :

Anita Kar provided occasional, non-remunerative information on birth defects to the makers of this documentary but was not otherwise involved in the making of the film. She has been acknowledged in the credits.

I have read the terms and conditions of authorship of IJME and accept them.
