

December 8, 2018

Dr. Amar Jesani
Editor, Indian Journal of Medical Medicine

Dear Dr. Jesani,

I hope this finds you well. I am excited and humbled to submit this manuscript, “Ethical Considerations for Family Visitation in the Trauma Setting: A Case Study,” to the Indian Journal of Medical Ethics. This piece was specifically tailored for the scope of your journal, and it has not been submitted or published elsewhere. There are no conflicts of interest I have to disclose.

This case study will be of interest to your readership in that it addresses the ethical quagmire of family visitation in the emergency room – an issue many emergency medicine physicians have encountered. The commentary offers a structured consideration of each stakeholder in this case, from physician to family to patient (both the case in point, and others).

Please do not hesitate to reach out to me with any questions regarding this manuscript. I look forward to hearing from you.

My best,

Danish Zaidi, MTS, MBE, MD (candidate)
Wake Forest School of Medicine